This helpsheet tells you what you can do if:

- you have made a loss in your trade, profession or vocation (hereafter shortened to trade), or
- you are entitled to a share of the loss made by a partnership of which you are a member and includes a Working Sheet (page 5) to assist you in keeping track of your losses.

Trade losses can be relieved in a number of ways:

- by reducing your income for the year ended 5 April 2011 and if your income is nil or less than the loss
- by reducing your capital gains for the year ended 5 April 2011
- by claiming for relief to be calculated by reference to your income for earlier years or your capital gains for the year ended 5 April 2010
- by claiming for relief to be calculated by reference to profit of the same trade taxed in earlier years
- by carry forward against future profits of the same trade or income from the company (where you transfer your trade to a company in exchange for shares in that company), or post cessation receipts.

Your claims must be made within the time limits shown on pages 2 to 4. Late claims will only be considered in exceptional circumstances. For further guidance, contact us or your tax adviser.

You cannot claim only part of the loss. This may mean your personal allowances cannot be fully used. And you can only claim relief once for each pound of loss. But if you make a claim and your income, gains or profits are not enough to use the whole of the loss, the balance of the loss can be claimed in another way.

If relief is by reference to income, profit, or gains of more than one year, you should provide information on how the losses are to be allowed in the 'Any other information' box on the Self-employment page or on the tax return.

Claims not made in a tax return

Not all claims to loss relief must be made in a tax return or amended tax return. Some claims may be made in advance of the tax return for the year of loss, for example, claims to include the loss in your PAYE code for the year of loss, or claims for the loss to be relieved by reference to income, profit or capital gains of earlier years. Some claims may be made after the time for amending the tax return has expired. Please write a letter telling us the name of your trade, how much the loss is and for what period, and say how you want the relief to be given. Any repayment due as a result of a claim for relief by reference to earlier year's income, profit or capital gains relates to the year of the loss, even though the relief is calculated by reference to your income, profit or capital gains and circumstances of the earlier years.

Claims made in a tax return

Sole traders

You can claim tax relief for a loss you made in your trade by filling in boxes 32 to 34 on your Self-employment (short) pages or boxes 77 to 79 on your Self-employment (full) pages. (These pages will be referred to as the 'short' and 'full' pages respectively from now on.)

Partners

If you are a member of a partnership, you can claim tax relief for your share of the partnership losses by filling in boxes 20 to 22 on your Partnership pages.

Your share of the loss will be treated as having arisen from a trade that you carried on alone. That trade will be regarded as having started on the date you became a partner (unless you previously carried on the trade on your own account when it will be regarded as having commenced on the date you started the trade) and to have ceased on the date on which you ceased to be a partner (or if you carry on the trade thereafter as a sole trader, the date on which the trade ceased).

If relief is by reference to income, profit or gains of an earlier year, you should provide the following information on how the loss is to be allowed in the 'Any other information' box on the Self-employment page or on the tax return:

- the earlier year, and if the loss is carried back to more than one earlier year
- the amount of loss to be deducted in calculating your net income for each earlier year.

The following paragraphs describe the different options and the conditions that must be satisfied.

Relief against income or gains for 2010–11

You can claim relief for the loss by reducing your income for 2010–11. The loss you claim in box 32 on the short pages, box 77 on the full pages or box 20 on the Partnership pages will normally be the whole of the loss. But if the allowable loss is more than your income, or if your income is nil (or does not include any income from which the 2010–11 loss can be deducted), enter the figure of income (or nil) in boxes 32, 77 or 20 as appropriate.

You can claim the balance of the loss against your capital gains for 2010–11 by completing box 14 on the Capital gains summary page. The amount of loss to set off against your capital gains for 2010–11 will be the lower of:

- the amount of the chargeable gains for 2010–11 (after reliefs and the deduction of allowable capital losses) but without taking account of the annual exempt amount due for the year, or
- the 2010–11 loss less the figure entered in box 32 on the short pages, box 77 on the full pages or box 20 on the Partnership pages.

If your 2010–11 loss was included in your PAYE code, please include the amount of the loss in box 32 on the short pages or box 77 on the full pages or box 20 on the Partnership pages.

The time limit for this claim is 31 January 2013.

Relief calculated by reference to income or gains of earlier years

You can claim to have the loss in 2010–11 relieved by reference to:

- income or gains in 2009–10
- income in up to three years before 2010–11.

These claims all relate to 2010–11 even though they are calculated by reference to your income or capital gains and circumstances of the earlier years.

You can claim relief for the loss to be calculated by reference to your income for 2009–10. If the allowable loss is more than your 2009–10 income, you can, if you want, claim relief for the balance of the loss to be calculated by reference to your capital gains for 2009–10.

If your trade was set up and commenced trading on or after 6 April 2007, you can claim early trade losses relief calculated by reference to your income (but not capital gains) of the three years 2007–08 to 2009–10. The loss is first relieved by reference to your 2007–08 income. If there is any balance of loss left, this is relieved by reference to your 2008–09 income. Finally, any remainder is relieved by reference to your 2009–10 income.

The time limit for claims is 31 January 2013.

If you want to claim relief in your tax return, enter the total loss to be relieved by reference to earlier years' income and gains in box 33 on the short pages, box 78 on the full pages or box 21 on the Partnership pages, and provide details of the amount claimed for each year in the 'Any other information' box.

If you claimed loss relief under this heading before we sent your tax return, please include the amount of the loss in box 33 on the short pages or box 78 on the full pages or box 21 on the Partnership pages.

Tax adjustments for earlier years

If you claimed relief for your loss in 2010–11 by reference to earlier year(s) income or gains, you must also:

- calculate the difference between the actual liability for the earlier year(s) and the liability that would have arisen for the earlier year(s) if the relief you are now claiming had been included in the tax return for the earlier year(s). Do not include any 2010–11 losses for which you have previously claimed relief. Please contact us if you need help in calculating your tax liability
- enter this difference, that is, the decrease in tax due, in box 14 on the Tax calculation summary pages (if you file on paper) or the 'decrease in tax due because of adjustment to an earlier year' box (if you file online) to give effect to the loss relief claim.

Relief against income or gains: restrictions

You should only claim relief for your loss if you ran your trade commercially for profit. If not, for example, because your trade is run as a hobby, you can only claim to set the losses against profits made in your trade.

If you are a farmer or market gardener, you cannot normally claim your losses against income or gains in 2010–11 or 2009–10 if you also made losses (computed for this purpose only before capital allowances are taken into account) in each of the previous five tax years.

Your loss relief may be restricted if you worked on average for less than 10 hours a week on commercial activities of the trade or if you are a Limited Partner or a member of a Limited Liability Partnership. The restrictions do not apply to professions or vocations. If you are in any doubt about this, ask us or your tax adviser.

If your trade is carried on wholly overseas, you can only claim losses in your overseas trade as a deduction from your overseas income (but not capital gains).

If you need help or further information ask us or your tax adviser.

Carry forward against future profits

You can carry your loss forward to set against future profits from the same trade. Deduct the loss from your profits in the first and each subsequent profitable year until it is used up.

The time limit for a claim is 5 April 2015.

Enter in box 34 on the short pages, box 79 on the full pages or box 22 on the Partnership pages the amount of your 2010–11 loss that you want to claim in this way. Include the amount of any losses you sustained in 2009–10 and earlier years which you have not yet used.

Include in box 28 on the short pages, box 73 on the full pages or box 15 on the Partnership pages unused losses from the trade in earlier years that you are using against 2010–11 profits.

Losses on cessation of trade

If your trade ceased in 2010–11, you can claim relief against profits from the same trade in 2010–11 and by reference to any profits from the same trade which were taxed in 2007–08, 2008–09 or 2009–10 for the loss of your final 12 months of trading. Helpsheet 222 How to calculate your taxable profits explains this.

Any tax adjustment due as a result of these claims relates to 2010–11, even though it is calculated by reference to the profits and your circumstances for the earlier years.

The time limit for a claim is 5 April 2015.

Summary of how allowable loss is to be relieved

You may find it useful to summarise your loss relief claims in the Working Sheet on the next page. This will allow you to keep track of your losses and make sure you do not forget to claim relief for any of them.

If you have losses from more than one trade, complete a separate Working Sheet for each of them.
